Course Description

Introduction to Human Studies is a foundational course for students interested in becoming a public advocate, social worker, dietician, nutritionist, counselor, or community volunteer. This course covers the human needs, overview of social services, career investigation, mental health, and communication. Artifacts will be created for inclusion in a portfolio, which will continue to build throughout the program of study. Standards in this course are aligned with Tennessee Common Core State Standards for English

Language & Literacy in Technical Subjects, as well as the Tennessee Psychology and Sociology standards, and the National Standards for Family and Consumer Sciences Education, Second Edition.*

Program of Study Application

This is the introductory course in each of the following Human Services programs of study. For more information on the benefits and requirements of implementing these programs in full, please visit the Human Services website at <http://www.tn.gov/education/cte/HumanServices.shtml>.

- Dietetics & Nutrition
- Social Health Services

Course Standards

Human Needs

- 1) Describe the different levels of human growth (using research such as Maslow's hierarchy of needs) and articulate the different characteristics of each level. Make a graphic that illustrates the pattern of metamotivation as humans fulfill each type of needs. (TN CCSS Reading 2, 5, 7; FACS 12)
- 2) Evaluate factors that impact human growth and physical development in areas related to personality development, temperament, self-understanding, and interpersonal relationships with family and peers. Make a chart/informational graphic of how each of these factors contributes to building healthy relationships and their role of self-actualization in human development. (TN CCSS Reading 2, 5, 7; FACS 12, 13)
- 3) Research the development of self-esteem and self-image in individuals. Create a list of factors that promote and hinder the development of positive self-esteem and self-image. Formulate a plan to build/improve self-esteem in a class project or school based project. (TN CCSS Reading 2, 5; FACS 12)
- 4) Cite specific textual evidence from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration and U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to analyze necessary dietary practices and specific recommendations for physical health, including dietary guidelines and meal plans. Research the importance of balanced nutrition on human development and productivity, and the correlation to mental health and wellness. (TN CCSS Reading 1, 2; TN CCSS Writing 2, 7, 9; FACS 14)
- 5) Compile and critique safety and sanitation procedures related to handling, preparing, storing, and serving food from industry-approved technical manuals and government-published fact sheets. Review general common laboratory safety procedures, including but not limited to prevention and control procedures. Incorporate safety procedures and complete safety test with 100 percent accuracy. (TN CCSS Reading 3; FACS 9)
- 6) Research the management skills required of individuals in order to be productive members of society. Identify the specific skills related to time management, organizational planning, and professionalism necessary for success in diverse environments such as the workplace, and apply concepts learned to produce specific recommendations in a written or graphic format. (TN CCSS Reading 2, 5; TN CCSS Writing 4; FACS 12)

Overview of Human & Social Services

- 7) Research and summarize the influence of significant contributors to the history and development of counseling, human services and dietetics fields. Create a timeline that shows when each of these major figures lived and worked. Major figures include, but are not limited to:
 - a. Anna Y. Reed and Eli Weaver
 - b. Ellen Richards
 - c. Doris Callaway
 - d. James Lind
 - e. James Cattell
 - f. E. G. Williamson
 - g. Carl Pfeiffer(TN CCSS Reading 2, 7; TN CCSS Writing 2, 6)

- 8) Research and analyze the ecological factors that inhibit optimal social, emotional, and physical well-being of individuals. Create a graphic that illustrates the connections between the environment and the physical or mental well-being of individuals, citing examples from local or state health agencies. (TN CCSS Reading 1; TN CCSS Writing 7, 9; FACS 12)

Career Investigation

- 9) Compile and analyze real-time labor market data, including economic and demographic trends, and compare with authentic vacancy announcements on local and national job boards. Use this information to compare and contrast occupations by education requirements, job availability, salaries, and benefits. Outline an educational pathway to obtain the necessary level of education for a chosen occupation. (TN CCSS Reading 2, 8, 9)

- 10) Examine licensing, certification, and credentialing requirements for specific counseling careers within human services (careers include counseling, social services, and dieticians) at the national, state, and local levels to maintain compliance with industry requirements. List the requirements to obtain the credentials and what one must do to maintain the credential. (TN CCSS Reading 9; TN CCSS Writing 2; FACS 7)

- 11) Examine requirements for career advancement to plan for continuing education and training. Research professional development opportunities needed to keep current on relevant trends and information within the cluster. Example careers include social worker, marriage and family therapists, health educators, and mental health counselors. (TN CCSS Reading 2, 7; TN CCSS Writing 2, 6; TN Psychology; FACS 7)

Mental Health

- 12) Research theories of mental health and create a graphic illustration or presentation summarizing the findings. Illustrations and presentations should include: key people in the development of the theory, main points of the theory, and assessment of the extent to which reasoning and evidence support the theory. Theories to research include, but are not limited to:
 - a. Developmental Theory

- b. Behavioral Theory
 - c. Cognitive-Behavioral Theory
- (TN CCSS Reading 8; TN CCSS Writing 2, 6; TN Psychology; FACS 7, 12)

- 13) Investigate the physiological effects of stress and crisis using research from the National Institute of Mental Health. Synthesize the information to identify the types of crises and create a graphic illustration of appropriate responses, management strategies, and technology available to meet individual and family needs during crisis situations. (TN CCSS Reading 1; TN CCSS Writing 9; FACS 12, 13)
- 14) Using investigative research, prepare a presentation or informative essay that explains the coping methods for individuals suffering from disorders, stress, or traumatic events. (TN CCSS Reading 1; TN CCSS Writing 9; FACS 12, 13)
- 15) Write a research paper or conduct a project on a current mental and social health issue using appropriate digital search resources and academic writing. Topics might include but are not limited to:
- a. Teenage Pregnancy
 - b. Peer Pressure
 - c. Substance abuse
 - d. Bullying/Cyberbullying
 - e. Eating disorders/Emotional eating
- (TN CCSS Reading 1; TN CCSS Writing 2, 8, 9; TN Psychology)

Communication Skills

- 16) Develop and practice active listening skills including: identification of speaker's major points, focusing on speaker's message rather than listener's response, discriminating between fact and opinion, and verifying interpretation of message. Use appropriate note taking techniques and overcome communication barriers by treating the speaker with courtesy and respect. Seek clarity of reception of communication by responding to verbal messages and other cues such as body language by rephrasing statements and asking questions. (TN CCSS Reading 3; TN Sociology; FACS 13)
- 17) Compare and contrast skills for communicating professionally as well as informally in everyday social interactions. Differentiate between verbal and nonverbal communication. List specific techniques for effective communication and evaluate how different cultures attach different meanings to communication techniques. (TN CCSS Reading 4, 9; TN CCSS Writing 4; TN Sociology)
- 18) Practice communication skills by participating in role-play exercises and critiquing the role-play exercises of others. Demonstrate specific techniques for building rapport with the client or others. (TN CCSS Reading 3)

The following artifacts will reside in the student's portfolio:

- Human Needs artifacts
- Management Resources recommendations
- Career Fact artifact

- Occupation graphic
- Summary of Theories of Mental Health artifact
- Stress & Crisis Informational resource
- Communication Skills artifacts
